FALLON OIL LANDS MAY BE RETURNED

Based on his statements on letters received some time ago from Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office, C. T. Lindner, called the father of the Fallon oil district, declared that he did not believe that oil companies operating in the Stillwater district would have any trouble establishing title to the lands on which they are drilling for oil.

Tallman, in his letter, quotes the opinion of the land office in regard to withdrawals made in 1902 and says further that any person who desires title to mineral lands of a first form withdrawal must make proper application to have the land restored.

According to Lindner and others interested not any of the land embraced in the oil district is available for reservoir sites or agricultural in any way and is of no use at all to the reclamation service. In Lindner's opinion land that has been withdrawn will be readily restored.

Lindner was in Reno this week and brought with him copies of the letters received from Tallman, in which the commissioner of the land office discussed the withdrawal of lands. One letter written in January of last year was as follows:

"Mr. C. T. Lindner, Fallon, Nevada:

"Dear Sir:—In reply to your letter of January 12, 1918, you are advised that the records show that the withdrawals of certain lands in the state of Nevada for reclamation purposes under the act of June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 888), in the Truckee-Carson project, were made under both the first and second forms of withdrawal.

"The withdrawals under the first form embrace lands that may possibly be restored to the public domain and those under the second form embrace actual construction and maintenance of irrigation works but which may possibly be irrigated from such works. (30 L. D. 655).

"In regard to lands withdrawn under the first form the department has held that

"Withdrawals made by the secretary of the interior under authority of the act of June 17, 1902, of lands which in his judgment are required for irrigation works contemplated under the provisions of said act, have the force of legislative withdrawals and are, therefore, effective to withdraw from other disposition all lands within the designated limits to which a right has not vested. (See 32 L. D.)

"In instructions of October 6, 1906, the department held that

"Lands valuable for mineral deposits and embraced within a withdrawal of lands susceptible of irrigation by means of a reclamation project under the act of

June 17, 1902, are not thereby taken out of the operation of the mining laws but continue open to exploration and purchase under such laws. (35 L. D. 216. See also 36 L. D. 138.)

"You will readily see from the foregoing that lands embraced in a first form of withdrawal are not subject to location and entry under the mining laws, while the withdrawal is effective and any person who desires to acquire title to mineral lands with the limits of a first form withdrawal will be required to make proper application to have the land restored.

"However, as you do not furnish any description of the land in the Truckee-Carson project in which you are interested I am unable to advise you as to whether or not it will be necessary to have the land restored in order that it may be located and entered under mining laws. I will state that there are no lands in the state of Nevada withdrawn for their alleged oil or gas deposits.

"Very respectfully,
"CLAY TALLMAN,
"Commissioner."

MAIL DELIVERED TWO YEARS LATE

(Correspondence Associated Press)

SYDNEY, Australia, June 4.—A curious manifestation of German psychology is seen in the recent delivery of the Australian liner Matunga's mails to the addressees. The Matunga was captured and sunk by the German raider Wolf off the coast of New Guinea in August, 1917. The mails on her were taken to Germany. After they had remained in German hands over a year they were delivered to the British authorities after the armistice had been signed. In due course they were sent to Sydney, arriving two years late.

Church Must Cultivate Nation Wage Earners

(By Associated Press)

New York, July 14.—Protestant churches of America, should be brought into closer relations with the wage earners of the nation, says a statement issued here today, by the Commission on Church and Social Service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America.

To accomplish this purpose, the commission proposes that hundreds of powerful, highly socialized and democratically organized churches should be established in industrial centers.

It suggests that seminaries should train ministers to know how to administer such churches, men who will know economics and social problems, as well as theology.

It proposes an alliance of the church with the workers themselves to achieve the great objects for which the workers are struggling, such as living wages, reasonable hours for conditions of labor, equal opportunities and pay for women, participation in management and ownership and abolition of child labor.

It is proposed also by the commission that the church denominations should agree among themselves to establish non-competing parishes for these churches in industrial centers and that the denominations should agree among themselves to establish non-competing parishes for these churches in industrial centers.

DALMATIANS WIN HONORS IN MILITARY CONTESTS

(Correspondence Associated Press)

ROME, June 17.—Zara, the Italian town in Dalmatia over which there was much discussion in the peace conference, was represented by a field and track team in the recent athletic exhibition held in the National Stadium. Athletes from all over Italy participated. In a grand parade of all the athletes in the stadium before King Victor Emmanuel, Zara had the place of honor and was received with tumultuous enthusiasm.

Now that it is all over why not settle the question as to who won the war? It is our idea that the two million men in American camps who were drilling night and day preparing for service overseas had something to do with it.
